

Identified issues	Assistance that could be offered by health authorities
Underfunded clinical research	Appropriate academic funding
Difficulties in obtaining consent for research	Global uniformity in the approach to waiver of informed consent
Complexity in follow-up	Authorising follow-up data obtained by linkage to administrative data sources
Inappropriate endpoints in clinical research	Encouraging the use of patient-reported outcomes

Table 2. Potential interventions by health authorities aimed at facilitating cardiac arrest research.